CAPE MAY – Sandy Sandmeyer-Bryan, a teacher, librarian and PACE teacher at Cape May City Elementary School for over 25 years, has won the Alliance for New Jersey Environmental Education (ANJEE) Awards Committee's 2011 Outstanding Environmental Educator - Formal Sector Award.

Besides being so dedicated to ANJEE, Sandmeyer-Bryan has also been a member of Cape May City's Green Team (Sustainable NJ). Cape May attained Sustainable Jersey Program Certification at the Silver Level.

She has made an impact in the school, in the community, and in the personal lives of Cape May residents.

Sandmeyer-Bryan will be honored at the annual ANJEE Awards Banquet to be held Friday, Jan. 27 at the Wyndham Conference Center in Plainsboro. The reception is held in conjunction with the annual Alliance for New Jersey Environmental Education Conference whose theme this year is "Exploring Our Blue Planet."
